SUBJECT: Local Designation for Historic U.S. Highway Route 101
DATE: October 7, 2008

Needs: Consider a request by The Paso Robles Main Street Association to designate Spring Street as part of Historic U.S. Highway Route 101 and place up to four State approved historic signs along the corridor.

Facts:

1. The Paso Robles Main Street Association has approached the City with a request to designate Spring Street as historic in accordance with the Historic U.S. Highway Route 101 program.
2. Prior to the re-routing of U.S. 101 in its present location, Spring Street was one of the State's primary transportation links between Southern California and the Bay Area. The character of Paso Robles and development along the Spring Street corridor responded to advances and popularity of automobile travel in the early 1900s. Several excellent examples of early motor hotels (motels), service stations, and restaurants still dot the Spring Street corridor today.
3. In recognition of the historic significance of remaining sections of the original U.S. Highway Route 101, the State Legislature in 1998 adopted ACR 92 that established a process for communities to recognize the historic segments of U.S. 101.
4. No specific locations for the signs have been identified. At a minimum the City staff and Main Street feel a sign facing northbound traffic on Spring Street near the Niblick Bridge and a second sign facing southbound traffic at the northerly entrance of town would be appropriate. It may be desirable to have a third and fourth sign along Spring Street just north and south of 24th Street.
5. Since this historic route is not proposed for listing on the National or State Registers of Historic Places, the designation is not subject to environmental review pursuant to the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA).

Analysis &
Conclusion: City Council action is needed to locally designate Spring Street as Historic U.S. Route 101 and to authorize the installation of the Caltrans approved signage (sign copy attached). The "site" being considered for designation is the actual Spring Street right of way extending from the highway off-ramp at the north end of town to the highway on-ramp at the south end of town.

The purpose of designation is to encourage public knowledge and education about Paso Robles transportation, and impacts that various events and decisions have made at a local, regional, and state level. Promotion, tourism, and other activities associated with a historical route designation are possibilities. Heritage tourism is a multi-million dollar industry nationwide. The nostalgia and resurgence of interest in roads such as Route 66 have proved beneficial to jurisdictions that have actively promoted the asset which is similar in concept to Paso Robles' Spring Street corridor

Because Legislature's designation was honorific, there are no other criteria, such as retaining historic features of the highway or having the roadway or surrounding environment look the way it did when the highway was first built and used. In other words, as long as it is a historical alignment of designated historic highway, then it is eligible to receive "historic highway" designation and special signage. The designation will have no effect on the permitting and environmental review processes for fronting properties.

Fiscal Impact:

The signs will be purchased by the Paso Robles Main Street Association. City street crews will install the signs in accordance with City standards at a minimal cost.

Options:

- a. Adopt Resolution No. 08-XXX designating Spring Street as part of Historic U.S. Highway Route 101 and authorize City staff to place up to four Caltrans approved historic signs along the corridor.
- b. Amend, modify or reject the foregoing option.
