

TO: James L. App, City Manager
FROM: Ed Gallagher, Community Development Director
SUBJECT: Code Amendment 14-006: Fortunetelling & Building Height Limits
DATE: October 7, 2014

Needs: For the City Council to consider adopting amendments to the Zoning Code.

- Facts:
1. The Zoning Code is proposed to be amended to address the following issues:
    - a. Amend Table 21.16.200 to allow for fortunetelling, psychics, and related services in commercial and office professional zones, subject to the approval of a Conditional Use Permit, and not in areas of the City identified as Gateway locations;
    - b. Amend Section 21.16A.020 to replace the existing language that requires the City Council to approve height exceptions in conjunction with a Planned Development (PD), to allow exceptions be approved by the Planning Commission.
    - c. Amend Section 21.20.130 to include language that would allow for non-habitable architectural roof and tower features of buildings to exceed height limits specified in each zoning district, subject to approval of a site plan by the Development Review Committee.
  2. On August 19, 2014, the City Council was asked whether they would be interested in considering making a determination that fortune tellers are similar to other office uses such as counseling, and/or personal services such as barber shops and beauty salons, and permit them in the same zoning districts as those uses.
  3. The Council directed staff to prepare an ordinance amending the Zoning Code allowing for fortunetelling, psychics and related services, subject to a Conditional Use Permit (CUP) in certain commercial and mixed use zones.
  4. Also proposed are amendments related to building height limits as follows:
    - a. Amend Section 21.16.A.020 to authorize the Planning Commission to approve exceptions to height limits for development plan (PD) applications.
    - b. Amend Section 21.20.130 to include language that would allow for architectural roof and tower features of buildings that do not enclose habitable space to exceed height limits specified in each zoning district, subject to approval of a site plan by the Development Review Committee.
  5. At its meeting of September 23, 2014, the Planning Commission conducted a public hearing on this code amendment and unanimously recommended that the Council adopt it as proposed.

6. The proposed amendments to the Zoning Ordinance collectively would not have a significant effect on the environment and, therefore, are exempt from the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) in accordance with Section 15061(b)(3) of the State's Guidelines to Implement CEQA).

Analysis and

Conclusion:

Each topic is analyzed individually (below) and is provided with a suggested approach on how to address the issue and amend the code.

1. Regulations for Fortunetelling, Psychics and Related Services

As mentioned above, the City Council reviewed this matter and was open to allowing fortunetelling businesses in certain commercial and mixed use zones, where they would not be located in areas of the City that are considered gateways, as outlined in the City's Gateway Plan. Additionally, there was concern that fortunetelling businesses could be proposed in areas where they may not be compatible with existing surrounding uses, therefore, the City Council suggested that a Conditional Use Permit be required so that each site could be evaluated on a case-by-case basis for compatibility. The CUP would also review proposed signage to determine that signage would be appropriate.

This code amendment is specific to properties in city limits that are not located within the Uptown Town Centre Specific Plan. A separate amendment is being processed for the specific plan area.

Exhibit A to the draft Ordinance attached to this staff report proposes to amend Table 21.16.200 of the Zoning Code to add a line for fortune telling, psychics, and related services in the C1, C2, C3, and, OP zoning districts subject to the approval of a CUP and not within properties located at City gateways.

2. Building Height Limits

In the past couple of years, the City has approved exceptions for architectural roof and tower features that do not enclose habitable space. Exceptions were granted for the Ayres Hotel, Marriott Hotel, Oxford Inn, and Pine Street Promenade projects using authority in the regulations for the PD Overlay Zone and the UTCSP to approve "modifications" to zoning standards.

Assuming that the City wishes to allow such flexibility in future development applications, it would be preferable to amend the code to allow the Planning Commission to approve exceptions to building heights for buildings that are subject to a Development Plan (PD) rather than the City Council as presently required in Section 21.16A.020, and for the DRC to approve "architectural roof and tower features that do not enclose habitable space" for buildings subject to a Site Plan review in Section 21.20.130.

Section 21.16A.020 & 030
(Code Amend. 14-006)

21.16A.020 Permit requirements.

In combination with any base zone, the planned development district overlay shall require approval of a development plan application by:

- a. The planning commission for applications seeking approval of different development standards as provided for in Subsections (1), (2), (3), (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10), (11), (12), and (13) of Section 21.16A.030 (Density and use limitations); and
- b. The city council for applications seeking approval of modified building heights as provided for in Subsection (4) of Section 21.16A.030 (Density and use limitations).

(Ord. 851 N.S. § 1 Exh. A § 3, 2003; Ord. 635 N.S. Exh. A (part), 1992; Ord. 621 N.S. § 1 Exh. A (part), 1992)

21.16A.030 Density and use limitations.

The planning commission may allow different development standards to be applied within the planned development district than are required for any zoning district as follows:

- (1) Can be used to provide flexibility in minimum lot sizes, widths and depths, which are specified by the base zone district; for example: to cluster lots to preserve natural resources;
- (2) Can be used to modify setback requirements; for example: to permit zero lot line development design;
- (3) Can be used to modify the descriptive nonnumerical grading standards of the R-1 district regulations for properties located within the R-1 and Hillside development districts, if it can be demonstrated that such modifications will still preserve the integrity of the existing topography and basic land form of the site. It must also be demonstrated that such modifications will meet the intent of preservation of natural resources and/or conserve/provide for open space;
- (4) Can be used to modify zoning code building heights, but not to override building code requirements;
- (5) Can be used to limit the types and intensities of land uses within any base zone;
- (6) Can be used to discourage/prevent premature subdivision of commercial and industrial land before a master development plan has been approved;
- (7) Can be used as a conceptual review/approval process for projects which are filed in conjunction with subdivision applications;
- (8) Cannot be used to increase the permissible overall project site density or intensity of development for a project site for any base zone district;
- (9) Cannot be used to modify the numerical grading limitation standards of the R-1 district regulations for properties located within the R-1 and Hillside development districts, i.e., cannot modify maximum developable slopes, maximum vertical heights of graded slopes, maximum vertical heights of retaining walls or stem walls;
- (10) Cannot be used to create lots of less than the minimum size, width and depth required for lots within the R-1 and Hillside development districts in cases where the finished graded slopes of a lot are fifteen percent or greater in slope (exclusive of 2:1 or lesser slopes approved for pads, benches, driveways, and usable yard areas);
- (11) Cannot be used to modify safety requirements for public improvements such as engineered street and driveway design or street widths;

Attachment 2
Section 21.20.130
(Code Amend. 14-006)

- (12) Can be used to provide flexibility to modify other public improvements, such as the width and location of parkways and sidewalks when such modifications do not adversely affect public safety;
- (13) Cannot be used to modify the standards of the sign ordinance.
